EU ministers to agree to make climate neutrality by 2050 binding

By Kate Abnett 3 MIN READ

BRUSSELS (Reuters) - EU environment ministers are set to agree to make the bloc's pledge to be climate neutral by 2050 legally binding, although details on how deeply to cut emissions over the next decade will be decided in December.

COMMENT · 16 MARCH 2021

Net-zero emissions targets are vague: three ways to fix

To limit warming, action plans from countries and companies must be fair, rigorous and transparent.

Big Oil's Net-Zero Plans Show the Hard Limits of Carbon Offsets

As more companies turn to offsets to lower their environmental impact, the total volume they need will quickly exceed the planet's ability to provide them.
